

Erasing the Contents of a File

The `Clear-Content` cmdlet enables you to erase the contents of a file without deleting the file itself. For example, suppose you run this command:

```
[crayon-6a9d6f4933da0535653278/]
```